

American Dental Association
www.ada.org

The ADA's Government Affairs Division ensures that dentistry's views are represented in the shaping of federal policy. It also furnishes an extensive line of services to help strengthen the advocacy efforts of state and local dental societies.

Additionally, the division is home to ADPAC, the Association's political arm for electing dental-friendly candidates to public office and the principle vehicle for engaging ADA members in the political process.
